Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, 15-17, drawn to an expression vector and isolated host cells, classified in class 435, subclass 325.
- II. Claims 11-19, and 24-27, drawn to a transgenic bird and method of making the same, classified in class 800, subclass 19.
- III. Claims 22-23, drawn to a method of making a chimeric bird, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- IV. Claims 20-21, drawn to an avian egg, classified in class containing exogenous protein, class 119, subclass 6.8.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case besides use in making a transgenic avian or chimeric avian the expression vector could also be use to make isolated recombinant host cells or transduction of host cells in vivo via method of gene delivery. In addition the expression vector and transgenic avian are two distinct product which have ifferent modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). Thus these inventions are distinct and are of separate uses.

Inventions IV and inventions I, II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the avian egg of group IV is not of transgenic origin. Thus these inventions are distinct, since use of one is not required for other.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claim 9 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising Xenopus laevis ef-1 alpha promoter, the HSV tk promoter, the CMV promoter, and the beta-actin promoter.

Claim 17 and 21 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising human growth hormone, interferon, erythropoietin, immunotoxins and antibodies.

Claim 23 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising embryonic germ cells (EG), embryonic stem cells (ES), and primordial germ cells (PGC).

Claim 25 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising ovomucoid, ovalbumin, lysozyme, conalbumin, or ovomucin promoters.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sumesh Kaushal Ph.D. whose telephone number is 571-272-0769. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri. from 9AM-5PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Dave Nguyen can be reached on 571-272-0731. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
